Beginning Friday, January 20, 2017 – 9:00 am to 11:00 am (Central)

Meeting online via Bluejeans.com

Fall 2016 registrants are eligible for a discount for the Spring 2017 course registration

This course meets for two (2) hours on Fridays from 9:00 am to 11:00 am (Central) beginning January 20, 2017 through April 28, 2017 (except for TAMU Spring Break Week and one Wednesday class), see the Syllabus - Spring 2017 for the exact course dates. Pre-registration required. Registrants may attend in person or online.

The objectives of this course are to provide a familiarity with the Python programming language, to provide an introduction to procedural programming within the context of the Digital Humanities, and to equip students with the tools to perform typical, Digital Humanities related tasks using Python scripts. To view a five minute video describing the Spring 2017 P4H Python course go to the Overview webpage on the P4H website.

Course dates, syllabus, and registration information are available at Programming4HUMANISTS.org
